30-day Public Review from September 17, 2021, to October 17, 2021

- ♦ 1st Public Review of BSR/ASHRAE Addendum k to ANSI/ASHRAE Standard 154-2016, *Ventilation for Commercial Cooking Operations

Addendum K makes changes to Section 5.5.3 to reflect the latest listing requirement for pollution control units (PCUs) for commercial cooking applications and harmonizes this requirement with IMC 2021, Section 506.5.2. Also, UL 8782 is added to the reference section.

- ♦ 1st Public Review of BSR/ASHRAE Addendum l to ANSI/ASHRAE Standard 154-2016, *Ventilation for Commercial Cooking Operations

This addendum adds requirements in the standard for equipment installed inline commercial grease ducts and the stated requirements in agreement with IMC 2021 and NFPA 96 2021.

- ♦ 1st Public Review of BSR/ASHRAE Addendum m to ANSI/ASHRAE Standard 154-2016, *Ventilation for Commercial Cooking Operations

This addendum is in response to COVID and variant pandemic concerns. Standard 62.1 allows use of outdoor air supplied and used for adjacent spaces of the kitchen as replacement air for kitchen exhaust if it is deemed to be class 2 air. Standard 62.1 is a better medium to address virus spread and air classification as the standard is revised to minimize virus spread and herein reflected in this addendum.
